CURRENT INDIAN SCIENCE

Aims & Scope

Current Indian Science is an open access journal and it publishes original research articles, letters, case reports, reviews/mini-reviews, editorials, commentaries, perspectives, letters to the editor, and guest-edited thematic issues in various disciplines focused largely on science in India. Contributions from abroad are also welcome. Current Indian Science is not limited to a specific field but instead covers all major fields of science, technology, information technology, agricultural sciences, earth sciences, and medicine.
